"Yes, my boy, do."

And the last six years were wiped away like evil writing from a slate.

There was no explanation. These two men were not of those who explain themselves and in the warmth of explanation say things which they do not fully mean. The opinions that each had held during the years they had left behind had perhaps been modified on both sides, but neither sought details of the modification. They knew each other now, and each respected the indomitable will of the other.

They inquired after each other's health. They spoke of events of a common interest. Trifles of everyday occurrence seemed to contain abiding details. But it is the everyday occurrence that makes the life. It was the putting on of the coats that reconciled these two men.

"Let me see," said Sir John, "you gave up your rooms before you left England, did you not?"

"Yes."

Jack drew forward his chair and put his feet out toward the fire. It was marvelous how thoroughly at home he seemed to be.

"Then," continued Sir John, "where is your luggage?"

"I left it at the club."

"Send along for it. Your room is—quite ready for you. I shall be glad if you will make use of it as long as you like. You will be free to come and go as if you were in your own house."

Jack nodded with a strange twisted little smile, as if he were suffering from cramp in the legs. It was cramp—the heart.

"Thanks," he said. "I should like nothing better. Shall I ring?"

"If you please."

Jack rang and they waited in the fading daylight without speaking. At times Sir John moved his limbs, his hand on the arm of the chair and his feet on the hearth rug, with the jerky, half restlessness of the aged which is not pleasant to see.

"Shall I put some coats on?" asked Jack.

"When the servant came it was Jack who gave the orders, and the butler listened to them with a sort of enthusiasm. When he had closed the door behind him he pulled down his waistcoat with a jerk, and as he walked downstairs he muttered 'Thank heaven' twice, and wiped away a tear from his bilious eye."

"What have you been doing with yourself since I saw you?" inquired Sir John conversationally when the door was closed.

"I have been out to India, merely for

Danderine

GREW THIS HAIR:

AND WE CAN PROVE IT

MISS JEANETTE WALLACE.

345 W. 14TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

When the scalp throws off either dandruff or a gummy substance, it is an evidence of scalp disease, and so time should be lost in correcting it. You certainly would not hesitate to take treatment were you to look at this matter through a magnifying glass. When highly magnified it resembles a working mass of insects. These creatures absorb the nutrient or life-sap of the scalp causing the scalp to become dry and feverish, resulting in the loss of hair and finally baldness. Danderine works wonders in all such cases. It thoroughly eradicates all trace of scalp bacteria and makes the hair grow unusually long, strong and beautiful. One 25 cent bottle is enough to show you that it will do all this and even more. NOW at all druggists, three sizes, 75c., 50c. & $1.00 per bottle. KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., Chicago.

DRAW ORDINANCE FIXING LICENSES

Aldermen Concur With Council In Matter

Order Railing Along West Sidewalk By Market House to Protect Pedestrians.

SHORT SESSION LAST NIGHT

A motion to draft an ordinance making the office of sanitary inspector permanent, unanimously carried in the board of aldermen last night. The inspectors are to be appointed by the board of health, subject to removal at will, for a term of one year. This with routine work consumed the hour and a half taken by the board in transacting business last night.

Aldermen Palmer and Chamblin were absent.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were adopted.

Mayor Yeiser presented a letter from officers on the gunboat Paducah which was filed.

Mayor Yeiser suggested the dedication of property for street purposes be referred, which was done.

Littleville Improvement.

A petition for improved streets in Littleville, in which the property owners agree to dedicate property and pay their share of the cost, was presented. There had been a question as to the dedication of property on Little's avenue, and a report, advising the dedication to be made in writing, from former City Solicitor E. H. Puryear was filed. Mayor Yeiser read a record of the attempts heretofore made to improve the street. The board of public works recommended that the council pass an ordinance for the improvement.

Mayor Yeiser suggested deferring the matter until the city engineer can furnish necessary drawing showing just what streets are to be improved. The matter was deferred.

Mayor Yeiser reported the payment of $5,006.66 to Miss Cornelia Johnson. She secured damages against the city for personal injuries. Mayor Yeiser borrowed the money, which shall be a floating debt for next year. The report was filed and ordered spread on the minutes.

A report of installation of two fire plugs on Washington street between First and Third streets, was filed.

The matter of building a culvert on the hill over Bradshaw creek on Nineteenth street was referred to the city engineer and board of public works.

The recommendation to install a hand rail or to reduce the height of the pavement at Second street and Kentucky avenue was favorably acted on. The aldermen fear a damage suit against the city for personal injury.

Aldermen Miller stated that there are hundreds of dangerous places in Paducah needing attention, and suggested next year setting aside $5,000 to remedy them.

Sanitary Officers Retained.

The board of health protested through members W. T. Graves, H. P. Sights and James P. Sleeth against discharging sanitary inspectors. The board of health can use the inspectors to advantage during the winter month. The motion to retain both officers and also to draft an ordinance making the office of sanitary inspector permanent carried unanimously.

The inspectors are to be elected or appointed by the board of health, which controls them, subject to removal at the will of the board. Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., stated that a better plan would be to extend by ordinance power to the board of health to employ inspectors, when needed as some times there will be a demand for more than one and at other times fewer will be needed. His suggestion was not acted on.

The city solicitor was authorized to defend City Clerk Henry Bailey in the mandamus suit brought by the Paducah Distilleries company to force him to issue it a liquor license.

Finance Report.

The report of the joint finance committee, showing a total allowance of $2,928.68 for salaries and claims, was received and filed.

Ordinances Acted On.

Ordinance for sidewalks, curbs and gutters on Fourth street, from Norton street to Husbands street. The date of completion was December 1. The date was changed to June 1 and the ordinance given first passage. It had been finally passed in the lower board, and will have to be sent back.

Chairman Miller, of the railroad committee, reported that he did not believe the traction company could be compelled to make the loop on Broad street except by ordinance. No action was taken.

A report from Engineer John Alvord saying his firm would complete plans for sewer district, No. 3, for $700, was read. A report from Engineer L. A. Washington was read objecting to some provisions in the new district. The sewer committee reported it had wired Engineer Alvord to come here for a personal conference relative to a change in the plans. The reports were filed.

Alderman W. T. Miller stated that he believed bill boards in Paducah are not substantial and moved that regulations be adopted. He wanted them set back from the pavement the distance of their height, and suggested their height be not more than 10 feet. The matter was favorably acted on. The board of public works was instructed to see that the regulations are carried out.

Alderman Miller stated that Patrolman A. T. Hurley and Thad Terrell won the damage suit filed against them in federal court and thought the city should stand their attorneys' fee and other incidental expenses incurred in the prosecution not covered by their guarantee bond. He made a motion to that effect. No action was taken.

Alderman Hubbard offered a motion to amend the license ordinance at once. Motion carried.

Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., reported that by agreement the East Tennessee Telephone company injunction suit would be submitted by briefs to Federal Judge Evans and argued in Louisville.

On motion the board adjourned.

Claim Notice.

October Term, 33rd Day, November 21, 1906.

William Stanly, Administrator of Geo. Ratcliffe, et al, Plaintiffs, Vs. Equity, R. P. Stanly, et al, Defendants.

Prayed All Election Day.

More than three hundred women wearing white ribbon badges, and as many more who blushing admitted to their associates that they ought to be wearing them, prayed fervently all of yesterday at the W. C. T. U. headquarters in Newark for the election of the Independent party candidates.

"Down with bossism and down with the tin-pail saloon business!" was the slogan of the praying band.

From 10 o'clock yesterday morning until after the last voter had deposited the uncertain ballot last night the women knelt in prayer and lifted their voices in supplication of Divine assistance to elect the men who had promised destruction to Newark's busy saloons.—Exchange.

When a man and his wife get along nicely together all the women in the neighborhood think it's because the wife is boss.

INTEREST GROWS IN IMMIGRATION

Many New Members Added To The List.

Capt. T. J. Moore Is Soliciting in the County and Meeting With Great Success.

ILLINOIS FARMERS IN CITY.

The immigration association with headquarters in Paducah, is beginning to get down to actual work and substantial results are developing.

The association brought in a delegation this week from northwestern Illinois, of farmers and others, seeking farm lands and business locations. Quite a number of these visitors came in Tuesday night in the midst of the down pouring rain, but the larger part of the delegation postponed their visit, and will come a little later. The visitors who are here are now being shown over the county and city by Vice President W. L. Bower, of the immigration association, and some of the local real estate men.

Capt. T. J. Moore, who has just been engaged by Vice President Bower to look after membership in the association for McCracken county, has started in earnestly on the work. The association reports the following list of names as members received by mail the last few days: M. W. Martin, Murray; Will Mason, Jr., Murray; Cohankus Manufacturing company, Paducah; F. P. Toof, Paducah; Ryan & company, Murray; O. T. Hale & company, Murray; The Bank of Murray; George L. Allison, Woodville; B. J. Barlow, Barlow; Austin P. Wilkey, Calver City; B. J. Billings, Paducah; W. H. Viets, La Center; John L. Lyon, Kuttawa; D. H. Hughes, Paducah; G. N. McGrew, Bayou; U. S. Shacklett, Fulton; W. L. Bower, Paducah; John Fraleigh, Mayfield; Phil Hollenback, Louisville; J. W. Riggsberger, Paducah; M. J. Howley, Cairo; Edward A. Wilson, Metropolis; S. Bartlett, Kerr, Metropolis; J. H. Little, Benton.

The interest in the immigration movement will have steady growth and the association will be one of the most important institutions for good that has ever been inaugurated in western Kentucky.

ANOTHER MAIN.

Craneville and Paducah Arrange Talking Match.

Craneville against Paducah, with a showing of not less than 15 chickens a side, will battle in one of the biggest cocking mains ever pulled off the latter part of the month. Arrangements for the big fight have been completed, and Paducah sportsmen are anxious for the date to roll around. Each side must show 15 chickens. It may be that 30 will be brought. The bets range from $5 to $25. The purses run from an average of $10 as high as $25 with the odd fight purse $100.

OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARANTY OF MERIT.

"When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for women's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to place his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poison or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's peculiar diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which is in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate, nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such protective endorsement from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.
